

10 YEARS

of promoting evidence use in public policy formulation and implementation

The African Institute for Development Policy (AFIDEP) celebrates its 10th anniversary. AFIDEP strengthens capacity for evidence use and promotes use of practical evidence to inform efforts to accelerate the achievement of national development goals, the African Union's Agenda 2063, and the 2030 Sustainable Development Goals. AFIDEP has worked in 25 African countries, steered the demographic dividend agenda across Africa on which it has informed development strategies in 10 countries, and trained over 600 policy makers and 400 researchers in evidence informed decision making.
