Evidence-Informed Policymaking (EIPM) Networks

1. African Evidence Network

The Africa Evidence Network is a community of people who work in Africa and have an interest in evidence, its production (in particular but not exclusively through systematic reviews) and use in decision-making. We include researchers, practitioners and policymakers from universities, NGOs and governments. To join and take part in the Network's activities, please visit this page: http://www.africaevidencenetwork.org/

2. Evidence Based Policy in Development Network (EBPDN)

The evidence-based policy in development network is a community of development professionals interested in the intersection between evidence, policy and practice. Join to share resources and participate in discussions on knowledge, policy influence, power and politics.

This network aims to establish a worldwide community of practice for think tanks, policy research institutes and similar organisations working in international development, to promote more evidence-based, pro-poor development policies.

To join the discussion and access our extensive library of resources, you can sign up on this link: https://partnerplatform.org/ebpdn/

3. Knowledge Brokers Forum

The Knowledge Brokers' Forum (KBF) is a collaborative space to promote knowledge sharing and dissemination around intermediary work in international development. To learn more about how to participate in the forum, please visit the forum's online page here: http://www.knowledgebrokersforum.org/

4. ResUp MeetUp

The ResUp MeetUp community is designed to help research uptake and communication professionals keep up-to-date with this rapidly evolving field. To find out more about the network, visit this link: http://www.resupmeetup.net/
